

JUDITH MORRISON SCHALLBERGER

During the 1960s positions that have left Silicon Valley forever:

elevator operators greetings us coming and going department store hosiery bars each shade

shown through a clerk's hand

Woolworth's Fountain-- coffee and ham-salad sandwich for less than two bits

